

Request for Consideration

I tried to complete this assignment and worked hard for two days, but unfortunately I was late in submitting it. Despite my best efforts, I kept receiving empty JSON files and could not finish the task because it was too comprehensive for me at this stage.

I am not sure whether you will consider my application, but I sincerely request you to kindly consider me if possible.

I have strong theoretical knowledge, but I am still in the process of gaining practical exposure. If your company can provide an opportunity for a fresher like me, perhaps with a training period of three to six months, it would be a great chance for me to learn and grow. It has already been three months since I started applying for jobs, and it is becoming tougher each day to get an opportunity. Even if the training is unpaid, I am ready to hustle and put in all my efforts.

If you are reading this, thank you for your time and understanding. The assignment was very comprehensive and well designed, and I will try to complete it later even if I am not considered for this role.
